I. The Requestors

The Requestors are the following 9 organizations and 10 individuals. Authorization forms and identifying information for these individuals are attached below.

1. ⁵ 1010362
The ACLU of Illinois works to protect civil rights and civil liberties. It has challenged the U.S. government's broad surveillance of innocent people as part of the war on terrorism, the secret and unchecked surveillance powers of the Patriot Act, and the unfair questioning and detention of immigrants. For example, ACLU of Illinois attorneys have provided direct representation to individuals targeted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation ("FBI") and state and local police on the basis of religion and national origin, and for exercising their First Amendment right to criticize the government. It is a non-profit organization.
2. ⁵ 1010363 AKA
The American Friends Service Committee ("AFSC") Great Lakes Region opposes war and injustice. Founded by Quakers in 1917, the AFSC is a vocal opponent of the war in Iraq. In 2002, the AFSC Great Lakes Region was targeted for surveillance by the Chicago Police Department regarding its participation in a parade opposed to unchecked globalization. Also, the local affiliate of the AFSC in Denver, Colorado, was targeted for surveillance by local law enforcement as part of a Joint Terrorism Task Force investigation. It is a non-profit organization.
3. ⁵ 1010364
The Council of American-Islamic Relations Chicago Chapter seeks to enhance understanding of Islam, encourage dialogue, protect civil liberties, empower American Muslims, and build coalitions that promote justice and mutual understanding. It is a grassroots, non-profit membership organization.
4. ⁵ 1010365
The Council of Islamic Organizations of Greater Chicago is an umbrella organization of nearly 50 Muslim groups in Chicago, including mosques, schools, community centers, professional associations, civil rights organizations, and social services providers. Its objectives include communication and coordination within the Muslim community, advocacy on civil liberties and social justice issues, and establishing collaborative relationships with public and private non-Muslim organizations. It is a non-profit organization.
5. ⁵ 1010366
The Community Renewal Society is a faith-based advocacy organization located in Chicago and affiliated with the United Church of Christ. Since its creation in 1882, it has worked to create racially and economically just communities. It seeks to influence public policy, provides technical assistance to emerging grassroots organizations, and supports congregations in reaching out to their communities. It has publicly opposed the war in Iraq, the Patriot Act, and the mass detentions and interrogations of immigrants. It is a non-profit organization.
6. ⁵ 1010367 AKA
The Fellowship of Reconciliation ("FOR") Chicago Area Chapter supports domestic and international peace and justice, nonviolent alternatives to conflict, and the rights of conscience. FOR is affiliated with an international movement active in 40 nations. FOR has publicly opposed the war in Iraq and the Patriot Act. It is an interfaith, non-profit organization.

7. ^S The Muslim Bar Association ¹⁰¹⁰³⁶⁸ is comprised of lawyers and law students in the greater Chicago area. Its members have represented immigrants as well as citizens in FBI interviews. It seeks to serve both the Muslim legal community and the Muslim community at large. It is a non-profit organization.
8. ^S The Muslim Civil Rights Center ¹⁰¹⁰³⁶⁹ is a community-based organization active in the greater Chicago area. Its mission is to raise awareness among Muslims in the United States regarding civil and human rights issues through advocacy, education, and collaborative support. It is a non-profit organization.
9. ^S The Oak Park Coalition for Truth and Justice ¹⁰¹⁰³⁷⁰ is a group of citizens in the near-west suburbs of Chicago who support humanitarian alternatives to war, and civil liberties. It has sponsored town meetings, candlelight vigils, petition efforts, and several marches and rallies. It successfully petitioned the City of Oak Park to adopt resolutions opposing the war in Iraq and the Patriot Act. It is a non-profit organization.
10. ^S Mohammed Rasheed Ahmed ¹⁰¹⁰³⁷¹ is the President of the Muslim Civil Rights Center.
11. ^S Colleen Connell ¹⁰¹⁰³⁷² is the Executive Director of the ACLU of Illinois.

15. ^S Michael John McConnell ¹⁰¹⁰³⁷⁶ is the Regional Director of the Great Lakes Region of the American Friends Service Committee.
16. ^S Kevin McDermott ¹⁰¹⁰³⁷⁷ is the Executive Director of the Oak Park Coalition for Truth and Justice.
17. Ed McManus ¹⁰¹⁰³⁷⁸ is the Executive Director of the Chicago Area Chapter of the Fellowship of Reconciliation.

III. The request for waiver of processing fees

The ACLU of Illinois requests a waiver of search and review fees pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii)(II), which states that “fees shall be limited to reasonable standard charges for document duplication when records are not sought for commercial use and the request is made by . . . a representative of the news media . . .” See also 28 C.F.R. §§ 16.11(c)(1)(i) & (d)(1).

The ACLU of Illinois meets the definition of “a representative of the news media” because it is “an entity that gathers information of potential interest to a segment of the public, uses its editorial skills to turn raw materials into a distinct work, and distributes that work to an audience.” National Security Archive v. Department of Defense, 880 F.2d 1381, 1387 (D.C. Cir. 1989). Dissemination of information to the public is a critical and substantial component of the mission and work of the ACLU of Illinois. Specifically:

1. The ACLU of Illinois four times per year publishes a printed newsletter regarding numerous current civil liberties issues and distributes it by U.S. mail to roughly 21,000 people.
2. The ACLU of Illinois twice per month publishes an electronic newsletter regarding numerous current civil liberties issues and distributes it by e-mail to roughly 3,000 people.
3. The ACLU of Illinois dozens of times per year publishes an “Action Alert” newsletter regarding pending local, state, and federal legislation and distributes it by e-mail to roughly 3,500 people.
4. The ACLU of Illinois publishes other educational and information materials (including “Know Your Rights” documents and a host of materials created by the National ACLU) that are broadly disseminated to the public. Such material is widely available to everyone, including individuals, tax-exempt organizations, not-for-profit groups, law students and faculty, for no cost or for a nominal fee through its public education department. Such materials are often disseminated to relevant groups across the State of Illinois that then further distribute them to their own members or to other parties.
5. The ACLU of Illinois maintains and updates a web site: <http://www.aclu-il.org/>. This website includes substantial information about ACLU of Illinois cases and various subject areas related to civil liberties.

6. The ACLU of Illinois regularly communicates with the public regarding a host of civil liberties issues through national and local print and broadcast media, including through press conferences, press releases, interviews, and opinion editorial pieces. Indeed, the ACLU of Illinois receives hundreds of press calls per year. For example, the ACLU of Illinois has been quoted in the Illinois media regarding: (a) FBI "ambush interviews" of prominent Chicago-area Muslims and Arabs before and during the Gulf War of 1991; (b) modification during the late 1990s of a consent decree limiting political surveillance by the Chicago Police Department; (c) FBI detentions and interrogations of Muslim and Arab men in Chicago after September 11, 2001; (d) Chicago Police Department surveillance of organizations opposed to globalization before and during the Trans-Atlantic Business Dialogue meeting in Chicago in 2002; and (e) the civil liberties implications of the Patriot Act.
7. The ACLU of Illinois staff regularly speak regarding a host of civil liberties issues at public education events across the State of Illinois, including before business groups, houses of worship, and students of all ages. For example, ACLU of Illinois staff on three occasions publicly debated representatives of the local U.S. Attorney's Office regarding the new surveillance powers granted by the Patriot Act to federal law enforcement officials, and on one additional occasion did so with a representative of the FBI's Chicago Field Office. Also, ACLU of Illinois staff twice publicly debated a representative of the City of Chicago regarding the new surveillance powers granted to the Chicago Police Department through modification of a consent decree. In 2003, ACLU of Illinois staff participated in more than 200 public speaking events, including scores of events relating to post-9/11 civil liberties issues.

Depending on the results of this Request, the ACLU of Illinois plans to disseminate information gathered by the Request to the public through the kinds of publications and channels listed above. The ACLU of Illinois is therefore a "news media entity." See Electronic Privacy Information Ctr. v. Department of Defense, 241 F. Supp. 2d 5, 10-15 (D.D.C. 2003) (finding that a non-profit public interest group that disseminated an electronic newsletter and published books was a "representative of the media" and thus entitled to waiver of processing fees).

Finally, disclosure is not in the ACLU's commercial interest. The ACLU is a "non-profit, non-partisan, public interest organization." See Judicial Watch, Inc. v. Rossotti, 326 F.3d 1309, 1310 (D.C. Cir. 2003). In addition, the ACLU will not charge anyone a fee for any information disclosed as a result of this Request.

IV. The request for waiver of duplication costs

The ACLU of Illinois also requests a fee waiver for duplication costs pursuant to 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(a)(4)(A)(ii)(II) and (iii), which states that documents shall be furnished without any charge or at a reduced charge if disclosure is in the public interest because it is (1) "likely to contribute significantly to public understanding of the operations or activities of the government,” and (2) “is not primarily in the commercial interest of the requester.”

Here, disclosure meets both elements of this test. This Request aims at furthering public understanding of government conduct, to wit, the government’s policies, practices, and procedures with regard to the monitoring and surveillance of organizations on the basis of national origin, racial and/or ethnic background, religious affiliation, organizational membership, political views or affiliation, or participation in protest activities or demonstrations. This type of government activity concretely affects many individuals and groups and implicates basic privacy, free speech, and associational rights protected by the Constitution. This topic is one of widespread public concern at this unique historical moment, as illustrated by the wide array of newspaper articles referenced in Section V(B) below.

Moreover, disclosure of the requested information will aid public understanding of the implications of the Department of Justice’s recent decision to relax guidelines that previously restricted the FBI’s ability to spy on organizations without a threshold showing of suspected criminal activity. These restrictions were created in response to the Hoover-era FBI’s scandalous spying on politically active individuals and organizations, despite the complete lack of evidence that such individuals and organizations had been involved in any unlawful behavior. Understanding the current scope of the FBI’s surveillance and infiltration of law-abiding organizations is, therefore, crucial to the public’s interest in understanding the consequences of the Department of Justice’s important change in policy.

As a nonprofit organization, and as a “representative of the news media” as discussed above in Section III, the ACLU of Illinois is well-situated to disseminate information it gains from this request to the general public as well as to immigrant, religious, politically active, and other targeted communities, and to groups that protect constitutional rights. Also, as set fully forth in Section III above, the records requested are not sought for commercial use.

Finally, a fee waiver would fulfill Congress’s legislative intent in amending FOIA. See Judicial Watch, 326 F.3d at 1312 (“Congress amended FOIA to ensure that it be ‘liberally construed in favor of waivers for noncommercial requesters.’”).

V. The request for expedited processing

Expedited processing of this Request is appropriate on two independent grounds.

A. Expedition for “urgency to inform the public”

Expedited processing is warranted here because there is “an urgency to inform the public about an actual or alleged federal government activity” by organizations “primarily engaged in disseminating information.” 28 C.F.R. § 16.5(d)(1)(ii). See also 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(v)(II). The records in question involve the FBI’s and JTTFs’ actual and alleged activities with regard to the monitoring and surveillance of groups throughout the State of Illinois. There is an urgency to inform the public about such activities because it may bear upon the public's exercise of a number of constitutional rights. In addition, the request deals with potential disparate treatment of groups based on categories such as religion and nationality, and such potential unequal treatment is a matter necessitating immediate attention. There is particularly intense concern among potentially targeted groups about the actual or alleged federal government activity addressed by this request. Also, there is great public concern regarding the FBI's use of new surveillance powers granted to the FBI by statutory and regulatory changes after September 11, 2001. All of these public concerns are illustrated by the news coverage detailed below in Section V(B). Finally, the ACLU is "primarily engaged in disseminating information," as discussed above in Section III. See ACLU v. DOJ, 321 F. Supp. 2d 24, 29 n.5 (D.D.C. 2004) (holding that the Electronic Privacy Information Center is primarily engaged in disseminating information and entitled to expedited processing).

B. Expedition for "widespread and exceptional media interest"

Expedited processing is independently appropriate here because the information sought relates to "a matter of widespread and exceptional media interest in which there exist possible questions about the government's integrity which affect public confidence." 28 C.F.R. § 16.5(d)(1)(iv). The potential targeting of individuals and groups by the federal government on the basis of group membership, religion, political protest, nationality and other similar categorizations raises many questions about the government's integrity which affect public confidence in a profound way. Indeed, the instant Request relates to possible violation of First, Fourth, Fifth, and Fourteenth Amendment rights. The government's mistreatment of persons based on religion and nationality is a critical issue with a long and troubling history. Questions about the government's integrity in these areas affect the public's confidence in the government's ability to protect all of its citizens, and in the law enforcement and legal systems. See Edmonds v. FBI, 2002 WL 32539613, *3 (D.D.C. Dec. 3, 2002) (granting expedited processing on this basis of a FOIA request by an FBI whistle-blower for FBI documents about herself); ACLU, 321 F. Supp. 2d at 28-32 & n.11 (granting expedited processing on this basis for a FOIA request regarding the number of times the U.S. Department of Justice requested permission to use a surveillance power created by the Patriot Act).

Moreover, the widespread and exceptional media interest in this issue is reflected in the vast quantity of news coverage at both the local and national level. The 32 articles listed immediately following are a small portion of this massive coverage. See Daily Star Staff, American Arabs Concerned Over FBI's 'October Plan,' www.dailystar.com.lb, October 6, 2004; David Shepardson, FBI Agents Hunt for Terror Leads: Agency Combs Muslim Neighborhoods for Help in Preventing Election Day Attack, The Detroit News, October 1, 2004; Eric Lichtblau, Subpoena Seeks Records About Delegate Lists on Web, NY Times, August 30, 2004 at P10; Alex Bradley and John Mayer, The War at Home: Nationwide Crackdown on Activists, www.saveourliberties.com, September 2, 2004; Eric Lichtblau, Protestors at Heart of Debate on Security vs. Civil Rights, NY Times, August 27, 2004 at A9; Larry Abramson, FBI Questioning Political Demonstrators, NPR.org;

Times, May 31, 2002. See also F.B.I. papers describe role of young Kerry against war, N.Y. Times, May 6, 2004.

Finally, expedition is proper because this issue has been of concern to lawmakers. See e.g., Eric Lichtblau, Inquiry into F.B.I. Question Is Sought, NY Times A16, August 18, 2004.
